SUPERIOR COURT OF THE STATE OF CALIFORNIA
COUNTY OF LOS ANGELES

TRIXIE ARGON, individually and on behalf of a class of similarly situated persons,

Plaintiff;

vs.

MEGACORP INC., a California corporation, and DOES 1 through 100, inclusive,

Defendants.

Case No. BC5551212

Plaintiff's Notice of Motion and Motion to Compel Defendant
MegaCorp to Produce Financial Records at Trial; Points & Authorities

Complaint filed: June 9, 2022
Trial date: August 20, 2024

Assigned to Judge Jerry Blank,
Dept. 1010, Central Civil Division

1 NOTICE OF MOTION

2

3 To all parties and their attorneys of record:

4 You are hereby notified that at a date and time to be determined, in 5 Dept. 1010 of the above-entitled court, plaintiff Trixie Argon will move the 6 Court for a motion to compel defendant MegaCorp to produce financial 7 records she previously requested.

8 This motion is made on the ground that Ms. Argon served MegaCorp
9 with a valid notice to produce financial records at trial. Cal. Civ. Proc. Code
10 § 1987(c), Cal. Civ. Code § 3295(c). MegaCorp served objections and refused 11 to comply.

12 Ms. Argon's notice to produce seeks information directly relevant to 13 her trial for punitive damages against MegaCorp. Therefore, the documents
14 are material to Ms. Argon's case and there is good cause to order them to be 15 produced. Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 1987(c).

16 The motion will be based on this notice, on the attached points and 17 authorities, on the papers and records on file, and—if there is a hearing on 18 this motion—on the evidence presented at the hearing.

1 POINTS & AUTHORITIES

3 Previously, the Court denied MegaCorp’s motion for summary adjudi-
4 cation of Ms. Argon’s claims for punitive damages. (Eaglefeather Decl. ¶ 1.)
5 Ms. Argon served MegaCorp with a timely notice to produce financial
6 records at trial. (Eaglefeather Decl. ¶ 2.) MegaCorp responded with boiler-
7 plate objections to Ms. Argon’s requests and refused to produce any finan-
8 cial records. (Eaglefeather Decl. ¶ 3.) This motion seeks to compel Mega-
9 Corp to produce these records.

10

11 1. Ms. Argon is entitled to the financial records.

12 Because this is a punitive-damages case, Ms. Argon is entitled to sub-13 poena documents “to be available at the trial for the purpose of establish-14 ing the profits or financial condition” of MegaCorp. Cal. Civ. Code 15 § 3295(c).

16 Ms. Argon has a right to these records even without showing that there
17 is a “substantial probability that [she] will prevail”. Id. That’s the rule for 18 pretrial discovery of financial records, but not for records to be brought to 19 trial. Id.

20

21 2. The financial records are material to Ms. Argon’s case.

22 If the jury finds MegaCorp liable for punitive damages, the jury may 23 then consider “[e]vidence of profit and financial condition” of those defen-
24 dants to determine the amount of punitive damages. Cal. Civ. Code
25 §§ 3294(a) and 3295(d); Nolin v. Nat’l Convenience Stores, Inc., 95 Cal. App.
26 3d 279, 288 (1979).

3. Ms. Argon will be prejudiced without the financial records, so there is good cause to compel their production.

MegaCorp was ordered to stand trial on punitive damages. (Eaglefeather Decl. ¶ 4.) If the jury returns an initial verdict for punitive damages, Ms. Argon will need these financial records to prove the amount of punitive damages. MegaCorp cannot circumvent the trial by withholding evidence that the jury must consider. Cal. Civ. Code § 3295(d).

4. Conclusion

For these reasons, Ms. Argon asks that the Court order MegaCorp to produce the requested financial records.

Re: Nicholson v. MegaCorp, Case No. B718590125-2

Dear Mr. Falkenburg:

In response to your recent request, I've enclosed a DVD of photographs I took during the inspection of the MegaCorp facility on October 30, 2023.

I apologize for the delay, but I was recently hospitalized for a concussion sustained while rollerblading. Rest assured that I am on the mend. If you have any questions about this DVD, please let me know.

Separately: you recently served a set of 953 interrogatories on my client. These interrogatories were not accompanied by the declaration of necessity that's required when serving more than 35 requests. See Cal. Civ. Proc. Code § 2030.050.

I must, therefore, ask you to withdraw these interrogatories. While you are welcome to serve them again with the necessary declaration, my client is not obligated to respond to procedurally defective discovery requests. Furthermore, if you don't withdraw these interrogatories within six days, I will file a motion for protective order and seek sanctions.

By the way, it was great seeing you and Thelma over the holidays. I think we still have your cheesecake platter. Let's talk soon about our plans for Maui in the spring.

Sincerely,

Re: Cause of action for malicious prosecution

Malicious prosecution has three elements that must be pleaded and proved:

- 1) the defendant commenced a judicial proceeding against the plaintiff;
- 2) the original proceeding was “initiated with malice” and “without probable cause”; and
- 3) the proceeding was “pursued to a legal termination in [the plaintiff’s] favor.”

Bertero v. National General Corp., 13 Cal. 3d 43, 50 (1974).

1. Commencement of judicial proceeding

Any civil proceeding where the plaintiff seeks affirmative relief may be the basis of a malicious-prosecution claim. The original plaintiff does not need to personally sign the complaint. If the plaintiff is “actively instrumental” or the “proximate and efficient cause” of the action, the plaintiff may be liable. Jacques Interiors v. Petrak, 188 Cal. App. 3d 1363, 1372 (1987).

2. Initiated without probable cause and with malice

The malicious-prosecution plaintiff must establish both malice and lack of probable cause by the defendant in the underlying action.

In a malicious-prosecution action against an attorney in a civil suit, the standard for probable cause is whether a reasonable attorney would have thought the underlying claim was tenable at the time the original complaint was filed. Sheldon Appel Co. v. Albert & Oliker, 47 Cal. 3d 863, 885–86 (1989). An attorney may be liable for continuing to prosecute a claim after they discover the action lacks probable cause, even if there was probable cause at the outset. Zamos v. Stroud, 32 Cal. 4th 958, 970 (2004).

The showing of malice requires evidence of “ill will or some improper purpose,” ranging “anywhere from open hostility to indifference.” Grindle v. Lorbeer, 196 Cal. App. 3d 1461, 1465 (1987). Malice may be inferred from lack of probable cause if the party’s behavior was clearly unreasonable. However, this is not an automatic inference. Grindle, 196 Cal. App. 3d at 1468 (“Negligence does not equate with malice”). As above, failure by an attorney to conduct an adequate investigation may be evidence of “indifference” suggesting malice.

3. Favorable termination

Malicious prosecution requires that the underlying complaint to have been terminated in favor of the malicious-prosecution plaintiff. This means that a defendant cannot make a malicious-prosecution counterclaim as a “defense” to a complaint that appears to be malicious. Until the underlying complaint has been resolved, a malicious-prosecution claim cannot lie. Babb v. Superior Court, 3 Cal. 3d 841, 846-847 (1971). Thus, procedurally, the only option is to complete the underlying action, and then file a claim for malicious prosecution in a follow-on action.

“Termination” usually means the entry of judgment in favor of the malicious-prosecution plaintiff on a given claim. But any termination—for instance, deleting a claim from an amended complaint—is adequate basis for malicious prosecution. Whether the underlying claim may be revived (e.g., on appeal) is not relevant for malicious prosecution. As long as it’s been judicially terminated once, it’s fair game.
